On the second floor, inspectors observed people smoking charcoal hookah and cigarettes. They also made their way into the kitchen, also located on the second floor, and discovered it to be in a non-functional condition. It appeared to the inspectors that the kitchen was being used for hookah preparation, as it was filled with mostly hookah paraphernalia. Upon further inspection, it was observed that the establishment was not displaying, nor could anyone provide, a valid liquor license or health license.

When the inspectors arrived at the establishment, they observed two (2) females enter the establishment using the door on S. Eutaw Street. However, when the inspector attempted to enter using the same door, it was locked. Members of the task force were able to enter the establishment using the door on W. Alleged violation of Rule 3.12 (General Welfare) when at approximately 11:56 p.m. on January 21, 2023 members of the BLLC responded to a 311 complaint for disturbing the peace/noise/loud music/front door open. The inspector observed that the front door was closed and that the music was at an acceptable volume, the outside area was closed, and no outside speakers were on. When the inspector was returning to their car, they heard people screaming and observed people pushing and being shoved out of the front door of the establishment. The inspector returned to the establishment and made contact with the security officer. The inspector observed the establishment inside and could see that there was a large amount of people up to the front door and asked the security guard how many people were inside and they stated it was around 82 people downstairs and 30 people upstairs. The inspector asked what the capacity was and the security guard stated the capacity was 90 downstairs and 30 upstairs. When the inspector entered the establishment to get a head count, it appeared that there were significantly more than 83 patrons inside on the first floor. The inspector was unable to make it to the bar area as there was no room to walk and patrons were shoulder to shoulder trying to move around. The inspector started to count and counted approximately 120 people, excluding staff, and a room to the side was estimated to have 20 more people as the inspector was unable to make it over to that area to do an exact count. The inspector made contact with the manager and asked them to provide their liquor license and their fire permit, which was provided on the second floor. Upon review of the fire permit, the capacity was 90 people on the first floor and 60 people on the second floor. The inspector did a quick count and found there to be approximately 60 people on the second floor. The manger instructed security to not allow anyone in as the establishment tried to get their numbers on the first floor in compliance.
